(6). Possible Osaka Organization Aiding Korean Island of Cheju-Do (950-1150).

An investigation was initiated to determine whether an organization called the Friendly Society, which exists in Osaka Japan, existed in Cheju-Do. It was disclosed that persons who have lived in Pop Whan-ni (954-1119), two (2) miles west Sogwi-Po, and are now living in Osaka, Japan, and have organized the Friendly Society. This society solicits donations from Korean Nationals in Japan for the purchasing of material needed by the people of Pop Whan-ni, Cheju-Do. These articles or materials are to be used for the benifit of the people, not to be sold for individual profits. There is no organization in Pop Whan-ni called the Friendly Society.

3. Political Activity.

(1). Student Activities.

Various handbills were distributed throughout Cheju on and around 13 June 1947, which were leftist in content and ideas. Investigation revealed that the students were used as the distributers but that they had believed that the posters were the truth and were told that they would be helping Korea to reach independence. The handbills pertained to the Joint Commission and as already stated, were of leftist nature. All but two of the students were innocent of political affiliations. (8)
