WEEKA number 15 period 02-09 April 1948.

Section 1.
Subversive:

A. Civil disorders:

Communist attacks on Cheju-Do from 03 April thru 08 April resulted in at least 19 deaths. Of these, 4 were policemen, 12 were rightist civilians and 3 were rioters. Sabotage on Cheju-Do through the disorder period included: 1 bridge destroyed, 1 bridge damaged, 1 police box burned and damage to police communications. No registration booths were attacked. 2 of 3 dead rioters identified as non-residents of island (police rpt). Comment: The report of 2 non-residents being found among the dead rioters indicates what has long been suspected--that Communist goons are being shifted from one area to another to instigate and lead attacks on police. Furthermore, continuing reports from border and coastal points claim North Koreans are infiltrating South Korea to augment Communist leadership reduced by deaths and imprisonment.

WEEKA Number 16 period 9-16 April 1948 REFERENCE
 FROM TO PLACE

Section 1. South Korea.

Current:

8,055,295 South Koreans, or 91.7% of that part of the population eligible to vote according to the 1946 census as revised by Korean authorities, registered for the 10 May elections (A-2)

Comment: Communist activity on Cheju Do accounted for the comparatively small turnout (64.9%) there. The overall results are considered gratifying. It is still not known whether Communists themselves registered while orally and physically opposing registration **.

B. Civil unrest.

2 policemen and 3 Rightists were killed in sporadic violence on Cheju-Do (Police report).
